3Y0I • "Atlantic Tuna" is the name of the ship that is expected to take the 3Y0I team to Bouvet Island. She is currently "being refurbished from her very bottom to her top", the team reported on 2 January, and added that "getting the ship ready is a time and money consuming process that requires a lot of patience and flexibility from us". While there still are "some technical obstacles keeping the 'Atlantic Tuna' in the shipyard", the team members "are aware we start to face a situation [where] the most suitable and safe weather permitting season to reach Bouvet Island is about to slip away". See <https://www.rebeldxgroup.com/meet-the-atlantic-tuna/> for the complete release and pictures of the ship.

3Y0Z: REFUNDS • Refunds are now available to those who helped support the unfortunate 2018 DXpedition to Bouvet. "We now have returned our sea container to the US, paid our final bills, and sold equipment to raise funds", K4UEE (3Y0Z Co-leader and Chief Financial Officer) posted on 7 January. "After all this, I am happy to report we have a balance in our accounts. I am able to offer you a 48% refund of your original contribution to 3Y0Z. All supporters of our DXpedition are offered the same percentage regardless of whether they are a DX Foundation, DX Club, Individual DXer or DXpedition team member. Many of you have contacted me and indicated that you do not want any refund. So, I want to give everyone several options:

- OPTION 1: I want the refund. Please use my paypal email address
No checks or wire transfers please. I respectfully ask that you do not take a refund IF your contribution was $30 USD or less.
- OPTION 2: I do not want the refund; please donate my refund to the 3Y0Z team
Each member of the DXpedition team has invested considerable money, time and effort to try to make this DXpedition a success.
- OPTION 3: I do not want the refund; please donate it to the Northern California DX Foundation (NCDF) in my name
This will help fund future DXpeditions worldwide.
- OPTION 4: I do not want the refund; please donate it to the International DX Foundation (INDEXA) in my name
This will help fund future DXpeditions worldwide.

DEFAULT OPTION: if you do not respond, we will divide your refund pro-rata (proportional) between the 3Y0Z team, NCDXF, INDEXA and German DX Foundation (these are our largest financial supporters)."

The deadline for requesting Option 1-4 is 15 March 2019, and the contact email address is dxped@comcast.net.

"If I do not hear from you by the deadline", Bob says, "I will assume the Default Option". [TNX K4UEE]
