425 story

425 DX News was born in May 1991, but it originates from a group of local amateurs (the so-called «425 DX Gang») who used to meet on 145.425 MHz and exchange DX information. Around the mid Eighties we realized that 2 metres did not suit any more: many people living far from our area (Turin-Milan-Genoa) wanted to participate in the exchange so that we moved on HF (10 metres at first, then 80 metres) and organized a weekly info net for Italian DXers.

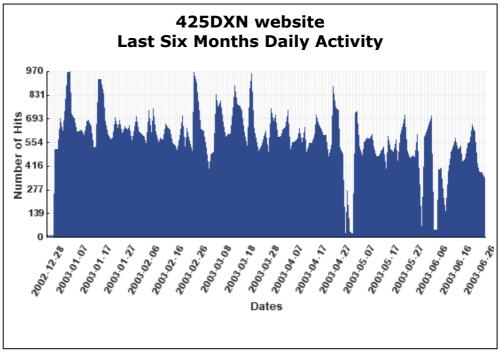

In the early Nineties, as Packet Radio got a footing in Italy and the Packet Cluster Network links became more and more reliable, we started producing a bulletin in writing and we called it 425 DX News in memory of the frequency from where everything had begun. Between May 1991 and March 1995 the bulletin was sent in Italian language on the BBS and PCL networks, but when we started to distribute it on the Internet it became clear that we needed to have it translated into English.

Two mailing lists were created and, thanks to Mirko Caserta (IK0ZSN), Maurizio Bertolino (I1-21171/IZ1CRR) and Gianluca Mazzini (IK4LZH), the 425DXN Web Pages and Reflector were established. Nowadays there are some 10,000 subscribers who receive the English bulletin, while more than 1,500 Italian amateurs get it in their own language. The current web site (www.425dxn.org) has been up and running since October 1998 and receives an average of 680 visits a day, but 425 DX News is still sent on the PCL and BBS for those who have not access to the Internet.

The Editors of 425 DX News are Mauro Pregliasco (I1JQJ), who has been at the helm since the birth of the bulletin, and his wife Valeria (IK1ADH). They gather information from a number of different sources: personal communications, the Internet, the fellow DX bulletins and of course direct on the air. «I have been so lucky as to rely for years on the valuable co-operation of several individuals», Mauro says, «and I am particularly indebted to Piero Forno (IK1IYU), who helped a lot in making the bulletin a success during the first years. Special thanks go to the translators: Maurizio (I1-21171/IZ1CRR), who edited the English version when the bulletin still used to be written in Italian language, and Paolo Garavaglia (IK1NLZ), who currently provides the translation into Italian»

The 425 DX News Magazine was born in January 2001, when Maurizio Bertolino had the idea of merging the weekly bulletins into single document to published (in either .pdf and .doc formats) on monthly basis. The Bulletin and the Magazine are complementary:

basically the former is for keeping up to date, while the latter is for storing the information. However, in the Magazine it is possible to find also photographs, articles, tables, etc. that are sent regularly to 425DXN but cannot be published in the weekly bulletins. Once when the Magazine did not exist, this material used to appear on the web site; now it is collected and edited for publication in the monthly edition.
